1. This Office action is in response to the RCE and IDS filed 10/23/06 and refers to the Notice of Allowability mailed 8/3/06 in the prosecution of the immediate ancestor of the present case.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the showings in the executed Rule 132 declarations of 5/30 and 31/06 demonstrate that the productivity of the process as claimed is due to the result-effective variable of the particle size diameter of the support material; while one may have expected that a smaller particle size would have been more catalytically active based on the greater surface area/volume or weight of material, the effect demonstrated is greater than merely additive, which is an unexpected result. The newly-cited prior art in the IDS referred to above does not appear to negate patentability.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
